Our Silver Award (to be finished in June 2019) was to host a cruelty free learning day at the Mercer Island Farmers Market. The angle is cruelty free and we plan to tie in a variety of ways that folks can partake in the cruelty free space be it food choices or other commercial products they consume.

We are starting to see more information highlighting reasons why people are finding their way to a plant-based, more compassionate lifestyle which is on point to our effort here:

- Help the animals | vegan options is the best way to help animals
- Help you | vegan options are loaded with amazing health benefits
- Help the planet | vegan options saves water resources, cuts your carbon footprint in half, and preserves habitats

The cruelty free learning day is part education part sampling vegan foods to expand awareness of vegan based food choices, tying back to the cruelty free theme.

We had 2 wonderful community partners, New Seasons donated all the food samples and Pasado's Safe Haven in Monroe, WA who supported our educational pursuit.

Also, we did our Breath Journey and took an overnight trip to eastern Washington and toured the Puget Sound Energy Wild Horse Wind Farm and got our junior ranger badge at the Ginkgo Petrified Forest (WA State Park).
